What Every Mom Should Know Before She Buys Cloth Diapers

When purchasing your stash of cloth diapers, here are some things to consider when choosing which brand to buy:

What kind of closures does the diaper utilize?

Look for snaps over Velcro-like closures. FuzziBunz uses snaps to ensure the diapers look clean and last wash after wash. Other benefits of snaps: they are truly maintenance-free and wash well! Unlike Velcro-like closures that collect stickies and lint, fray, curl, scratch and snag your baby's clothes, FuzziBunz offers a clean and durable closure time after time. See other guide: The Truth About Velcro Closures for pictures and more information on what kind of maintenance routine you can expect with Velcro diapers.

Does the company stand behind their diapers with a good warranty?

Some diapers claim to last 3+ years, yet many don't stand behind their diaper's closures. Be sure to evaluate each diaper manufacturer's warranty, paying close attention to the warranty offered on their closures (Velcro-like or snaps). At FuzziBunz, we stand behind our durable snap closures and offer an extra long 18 month warranty on snaps.

Does the company pay attention to details?

FuzziBunz include extra stitching around the top and leg casings of the diaper to ensure the diapers last after repeated use and washing. You'll notice that we never skimp on details, no matter how small.

Does the diaper offer a good fit for your baby's unique shape and size?

FuzziBunz offer a variety of sizes (small, medium and large) to ensure your little one's diaper "fits" properly each and every time without added bulk. We also offer two rows of snaps on each diaper – a row of leg and a row of waist snaps. This means you can adjust the diapers to securely and comfortably fit your baby's unique shape.

Are the diapers really dad-approved?

Someone can say their diapers are dad-approved, but how do we know this for sure? Well, FuzziBunz are so easy to use that they are the only diapers America's Most Trusted Dad™, Armin Brott, recommends.

Are the diapers really pediatrician approved?

Dr. Alan Greene, one of American's most beloved "green" pediatricians, recommends FuzziBunz in his recent book, Raising Baby Green. Now that's a doctor you can trust!
